

Volvo Penta offers 24-month fitted-parts warranty

5 May 2015

Immediate Release

Volvo Penta has doubled the warranty on Genuine Volvo Penta Parts and Accessories that are purchased and installed at a Volvo Penta dealer to 24 months — creating even better protection for customers.

Volvo Penta offers a comprehensive 12-month warranty on Genuine Volvo Penta Parts. But now the company has extended that warranty to 24 months for parts and accessories that are purchased and fitted at an authorized Volvo Penta dealer. Not only is the part itself under warranty but the labor involved in fitting the part is covered as well.

“We already provide a generous warranty on our Genuine Volvo Penta Parts and Accessories, and this will continue as a benefit for all Volvo Penta customers. But we wanted to offer an extra level of protection for customers who buy parts and have them installed through our Volvo Penta dealers,” says Wayne Patten, Managing Director of Volpower, the New Zealand distributor for Volvo Penta.

When customers purchase Genuine Volvo Penta Parts or Accessories and have them installed by a Volvo Penta dealer, they have the added benefit of knowing that the parts have been fitted correctly and with Volvo Penta expertise — to secure optimum function and reliability. Furthermore, Genuine Volvo Penta Parts are engineered to the exact specifications and tolerances of Volvo Penta engines and have been designed to work in perfect harmony with one another. They also maintain optimal fuel efficiency, minimizing fuel costs and emissions.

“With Volvo Penta, every link in the chain is strong. We offer high-quality spare parts that are well suited to our engines, as well as outstanding service and expertise. But if something does go wrong, our warranty coverage — both standard and now extended — provides a first-class back-up.”

Volpower has 21 authorised dealers throughout New Zealand and Fiji providing expert advice and service for Volvo Penta marine and industrial engines.

The fitted-parts warranty is now in place and retroactive for any parts purchased and installed since January 1, 2015. Exclusions on 12- and 24-month warranties include all wear and tear parts. The fitted-parts warranty is for 24 months, or 3,000 hours (industrial), 1,000 hours (marine commercial) or 600 hours (marine leisure), whichever comes first.

<http://www.volpower.co.nz>

For further information:

Volpower NZ Ltd
Wayne Patten – Managing Director
Ph 09 274 4305
Email: waynep@volpower.co.nz

About Volpower NZ Ltd

Volpower NZ Ltd represents Volvo Penta and distributes these products through a New Zealand wide Dealer Network and the South West Pacific region.

Under Volpower's enthusiastic management team, Volvo Penta has become the market leader in marine diesel engines.

Volvo Penta is one of the world's leading manufacturers of diesel and petrol engines used in work and leisure applications. Internationally, Volvo Penta engines are used not only as marine propulsion systems, but to power generators, irrigation equipment, excavators, forklift trucks, container handling equipment and forestry machinery.

Volvo Penta also manufactures marine transmissions, and a wide range of accessories. They include diesel engine turbo-charging, the Aquamatic stern-drive, sail boat S-drive, and the remarkable Duoprop system of two counter rotating propellers.

Volpower also handles a wide range of acoustic insulation material as NZ distributor for Soundguard.